Theme	Description	Quotations	Participants
Task characteristics	People described things that were particular to their task, for instance how they structured their task, whether they switched tasks, and how long they took to complete tasks.	129	9
Checking	People talked about checking data input as part of their job.	103	9
System	People talked about the computer system they were using to input data	91	9
Environment	People described their environment, for instance they talked about their physical work setting, and the work culture of their organisation.	80	9
Data	People described the data they were dealing with, for instance the type and length of data items, and from which source they copied data.	75	9
Errors	People described situations where errors were made: who made them, why were they made, what were the consequences.	75	9
Strategy	People described the strategies they used to carry out their task.	54	9
Importance of accuracy and paper trails	People talked about the sensitivity of financial data which is why not all people are authorised to approve or access financial data, and the importance of a paper trail for data entries.	35	8
Other	People talked about things that did not fit into any other category but were still considered relevant, such as issues they experienced, or queries they often received.	74	9